

COMMISSIONED ART

THE COMMISSION PROCESS

I am delighted you have chosen me to create something special for you. I want you to be completely satisfied and enjoy your art work for years to come. The process is one in which communication is key. Please review the following steps to begin the process for the special piece of artwork you are seeking.

- Evaluate your space to determine the size of the piece. Consider using painters tape to tape off a visual for certainty.
- Review the pricing guide for a close estimate of the cost of your commissioned piece. Keep in mind a frame and shipping or delivery are not included but will be determined upon signing the agreement.
- Share any photos, videos, fabric swatches and paint colors of the space in which you plan to display the piece.
- Review my website and social media for inspiration and ideas.
- Once the plan is created and agreement signed, I begin to create and will share 4 small rough paintings with you.
- After seeing the rough ideas in your space you will share notes with me outlining your likes and dislikes.
- From the notes and discussion, I begin to work on the piece and will share updates along the way. I want to be sure we are invisioning the same final piece of artwork.
- The piece will not be completely finished without your approval and the time line will be made very clear from the beginning.
